

WA Cervical Cancer Prevention Program online workshops

In Support of the National Cervical Cancer Elimination Strategy, the WA Cervical Cancer Prevention Program is offering free workshops to increase cervical awareness for Aboriginal health professionals, clinical and non-clinical staff working in an Aboriginal Health setting and health promotion officers who engage with Aboriginal women.

Information will be shared to build confidence to use the cervical screen flip chart to engage with Aboriginal women about the importance of regular cervical screening. Topics covered include; what is Human Papilloma Virus; HPV self-collection option; women with menopause; and exit testing.

The Aboriginal Health Council of Western Australia is proud to be hosting 2 online workshops
