

National Symposium on Griefology

Adelaide
Convention
Centre

7 July 2023

Transforming Aboriginal disadvantage into Aboriginal prosperity

Come to be intellectually informed, emotionally challenged and leave inspired!

National and internationally renowned speaker, highly sought after for her expertise on Griefology, Rosemary Wanganeen invites you to join her as a keynote presenter at her Inaugural National Symposium on Griefology.

As a national and international leader in Griefology, Rosemary Wanganeen will present her findings and the testing of the Seven Phases of Loss & Grief model®, proving that Griefology is a newfound discipline that is absent from multiple institutions struggling to transform Aboriginal disadvantage.

After more than 30 years of research, findings, and testing, the Seven Phases model will demonstrate that Griefology is a universal human experience that affects everyone, regardless of their background. Griefology has developed a long-standing hypothesis that it can prevent various social determinants, such as suicide, mental health challenges, physical illnesses, entrance into the welfare system, the juvenile and adult justice system, chronic homelessness, unemployment, and all forms and degrees of violence.

What you'll gain by attending:

A deeper and more meaningful understanding of the Seven Phases to Integrating Loss and Grief® and how it became the 'founder' of Griefology as a pathway out of Aboriginal disadvantage into Aboriginal prosperity.

- New connections with like-minded colleagues and peers so as to become allies of Griefology because you're ready for change that is measurable and sustainable.
- The chance, like never before, to be a part of the solution into Aboriginal prosperity!
- Opportunities for private sessions with Rosemary to explore ways to collaborate exponentially the aspirations of the Healing centre for Griefology.

"I was transformed by knowing the truths of the past..."

— Tracey Watters, General Manager at Technology for Ageing and Disability SA Inc

Rosemary Wanganeen Kaurna Elder, Founder and CEO Healing Centre for Griefology

Register Now

Phone:
(08) 8341 5557

Email:
programs@lossandgrief.com.au

Tickets available for in-person and virtual attendance

